

Julie Ann Ripley
U.S. Fleet Forces Command

A California native, Julie Ann Ripley is currently the Deputy Public Affairs Officer, Future Operations at U.S. Fleet Forces Command. Ms. Ripley has been with USFF since 2006 as the Environmental Community Relations Director and Environmental and Energy Public Affairs Officer.

Ms. Ripley enlisted in the Navy in 1985. She was commissioned in 1990 from the University of San Diego and qualified as a Surface Warfare Officer. She redesignated as a Public Affairs Officer in 1995 and transferred to the Navy Reserve in 2001, retiring in 2010.

Civilian work includes Executive Director, Bettering Our Local Downtown, Jacksonville, N.C. (non-profit redevelopment agency); Concessions Manager (Volunteer), Park View Little League; Permit Processor/Administrative Assistant, Designamics (architectural firm); and Executive Recruiter, Catalyst Placement.