

MSgt. Jeffrey Allen, USAF

Master Sergeant Jeffrey Allen is currently a photojournalist assigned to Airman Magazine, Defense Media Activity, Fort George G. Meade, MD.

Sergeant Allen entered the Air Force in August 1992 and was assigned directly to the 1st Combat Camera Squadron, Charleston Air Force Base, SC. His background includes various duties as an aerial qualified photojournalist, publication designer, visual information manager and public affairs superintendent. His assignments include bases in South Carolina, Texas, South Korea, Georgia, Hawaii and Maryland. He has deployed in support of Operations Restore Hope, Joint Endeavor, Allied Force, Iraqi Freedom and Enduring Freedom.

Sergeant Allen has completed the Advanced Military Photojournalism Program at Syracuse University and has a BA in Digital Graphic design. As an accomplished photojournalist he has been published in magazines and newspapers world-wide including; Time, Newsweek, GQ and the New York and Los Angeles Times. He was also a featured military photojournalist in the book, "A Day In The Life Of The United States Armed Forces."