

MC3 (SW/AW) Andrew R. Schneider

Navy Mass Communication Specialist 3rd Class (SW/AW) Andrew Schneider was born and raised in Staten Island, New York. He graduated from Susan Wagner High School in June 2010 and entered the College Of Staten Island in 2011.

In March 2012 Schneider entered the U.S. Navy attending basic training in Great Lakes, Chicago. Schneider attended the Defense Information School in Fort Meade, Md., and his first command was Naval Public Affairs Support Element East In December 2012.

Schneider deployed aboard the aircraft carrier USS Eisenhower (CVN 69) from February to July 2013. While assigned to the Eisenhower, he was selected as the photographer for Royal Navy frigate HMS Dragon (D 35), German frigate Hamburg (F 220), and Royal Australian frigate HMAS Newcastle (FFG 06) to document the collaboration between the U.S. and their respective countries during an interoperability exercise.

Schneider's work is presented worldwide including the pentagon wall. Schneider's personal awards include the Enlisted Naval Surface Warfare Specialist Insignia, and Enlisted Aviation Warfare Specialist Insignia.
Dwight D.

